Mountain Weather Forecast

Ground Conditions Supplement

Date: Thursday 14 April 2022 Location: Helvellyn summit at 10:23 Full report: A beautiful morning with a large blanket of cloud rolling in and engulfing the south of the county. Elsewhere summits were clear with light winds and dry conditions underfoot.The fells are by and large snow-free up to and including the highest tops, with the exception of a few patches of snow in sheltered spots and hollows and on steep north and east-facing slopes (particularly on Helvellyn) where drifts of roughly 40cm can still be found. Striding and Swirral Edges were in great condition today with dry and grippy rock and both can both be done without setting foot on snow with careful route choice. Despite the milder temperatures today, the summit windchill (feels like) temperature is still frequently in the minus figures, therefore warm and waterproof clothing including hat & gloves and equipment including a map and compass and the ability to use them in poor visibility are all essential. The Fell Top Assessing service continues until Bank Holiday Monday. Temperature: plus 8.6 C, Maximum wind speed 10.1 mph, Wind chill: plus 5.9 C, Average wind speed: 8.8 mph.
